

The Pen and the Inkstand

A Fairy Tale

By HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

IN a poet's room, where his inkstand stood on the table, the remark was once made: "It is wonderful what can be brought out of an inkstand. What will come next? It is indeed wonderful."

"Yes, certainly," said the inkstand to the pen and to the other articles that stood on the table; "that's what I always say. It is wonderful and extraordinary what a number of things come out of me. It's quite incredible, and I really don't know what is coming next when that man dips his pen into me. One drop out of me is enough for half a page of paper. And what cannot half a page contain? From me all the works of the poet are produced—all these imaginary characters whom people fancy they have known or met, all the deep feeling, the humor and the vivid pictures of nature. I myself don't understand how it is, for I am not acquainted with nature, but it is certainly in me. From me have gone forth to the world those wonderful descriptions of troops of charming maidens and of brave knights on prancing steeds, of the halt and the blind, and I know not what more, for I assure you I never think of these things."

"There you are right," said the pen, "for you don't think at all. If you did you would see that you can only produce sounds like tinkling water drops or rolling pearls, sometimes like the birds twittering in chorus, and then rising and swelling in sound like the wind through the fir trees. The poet felt as if his own heart were weeping, but in tones of melody like the sound of a woman's voice. It seemed not only the strings, but every part of the instrument, from which these sounds were produced. It was a wonderful performance and a difficult piece, and yet the how seemed to glide across the strings so easily that it was as if any one could do it who tried. Even the violin and the bow appeared to perform independently of their master who guided them. It was as if soul and spirit had been breathed into the instrument, so the audience forgot the performer in the beautiful sounds he produced. Not so the poet. He remembered him and named him and wrote down his thoughts on the subject. "How foolish it would be for the violin and the bow to boast of their performance, and yet we men often commit that folly. The poet, the artist, the man of science in his laboratory, the general—we all do it, and yet we are only the instruments which the Almighty uses. To him alone the honor is due. We have nothing of ourselves of which we should be proud."

"INKPOT" EXCLAIMED THE PEN CONTEMPTUOUSLY.

vide the means. You give the fluid that I may place upon the paper what dwells in me and what I wish to bring to light. It is the pen that writes. No man doubts that, and indeed most people understand as much about poetry as an old inkstand."

"You have had very little experience," replied the inkstand. "You have hardly been in service a week and are already half worn out. Do you imagine you are a poet? You are only a servant, and before you came I had many like you, some of the goose family and others of English manufacture. I know a quill pen as well as I know a steel one. I have had both sorts in my service, and I shall have many more when he comes, the man who performs the mechanical part and writes down what he obtains from me. I should like to know what will be the next thing he gets out of me."

"Inkpot!" exclaimed the pen contemptuously. "Late in the evening the poet came home. He had been to a concert and had been quite enchanted with the admirable performance of a famous violin player whom he had heard there. The performer had produced from his instrument a richness of tone that sometimes sounded like tinkling water drops or rolling pearls, sometimes like the birds twittering in chorus, and then rising and swelling in sound like the wind through the fir trees. The poet felt as if his own heart were weeping, but in tones of melody like the sound of a woman's voice. It seemed not only the strings, but every part of the instrument, from which these sounds were produced. It was a wonderful performance and a difficult piece, and yet the how seemed to glide across the strings so easily that it was as if any one could do it who tried. Even the violin and the bow appeared to perform independently of their master who guided them. It was as if soul and spirit had been breathed into the instrument, so the audience forgot the performer in the beautiful sounds he produced. Not so the poet. He remembered him and named him and wrote down his thoughts on the subject. "How foolish it would be for the violin and the bow to boast of their performance, and yet we men often commit that folly. The poet, the artist, the man of science in his laboratory, the general—we all do it, and yet we are only the instruments which the Almighty uses. To him alone the honor is due. We have nothing of ourselves of which we should be proud."

"That is what you have got, madam," said the pen to the inkstand when the two were alone again. "Did you hear him read aloud what I had written?"

"Yes, what I gave you to write," retorted the inkstand. "That was a cut at you because of your conceit. To think that you could not understand that you were being quizzed! I gave you a cut from within me. Surely I must know my own satire!"

"Ink pitcher!" cried the pen. "Writing stick!" retorted the inkstand. And each of them felt satisfied that he had given a good answer. It is pleasing to be convinced that you have settled a matter by your reply. It is something to make you sleep well, and they both slept well upon it. But the poet did not sleep. Thoughts rose up within him like the tones of the violin, falling like pearls or rushing like the strong wind through the forest. He understood his own heart in these thoughts. They were as a ray from the mind of the Great Master of all minds.

"To him be all the honor."

Bobby's New Shoes.
Master Bobby, whose shoes were getting shabby, was taken by his mamma to a shoe store to get a new pair. The clerk who waited upon them removed the old shoes from Bobby's right foot and proceeded to try on shoes until finally he found one that suited. Bobby's left foot was entirely neglected by the shoe clerk.

As they were leaving the store Bobby suddenly burst out crying.

"Why, Bobby, what is the matter with you?" asked his mother in astonishment.

"I want two new shoes!" sobbed Bobby.

It was only by opening the box that he was convinced that two new shoes, one for each foot, had been purchased.

Babyland.

"How many miles to Babyland?"
"Any one can tell."
Up one flight,
To the right,
Please to ring the bell."

"What can you see in Babyland?"
"Little folks in white—
Downy heads,
Cradle beds,
Faces pure and bright."

"What do they do in Babyland?"
"Dream and wake and play,
Laugh and cry,
Shout and growl;
Jolly times have they!"

"What do they say in Babyland?"
"Why, the oddest things;
Might as well
Try to tell
What a birdie sings."

"Who is the queen of Babyland?"
"Mother, kind and sweet,
And her love,
Born above,
Guides the little feet."

A Joke on Ethel Roosevelt.
Little Miss Ethel Roosevelt almost lost her new turquoise ring and nearly got a fat guinea pig in exchange for it when she attended a matinee performance in Washington recently of Kellar, the magician, with the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, Archie, Kermit and Quentin.

When Kellar asked for half a dozen rings from the audience, Miss Ethel handed up one of hers. The magician stuffed all into the barrel of a pistol but Ethel's, which he smashed with a hammer.

The bits were then rammed into the muzzle of the pistol, which was pointed at a big box and fired. When the box was opened, a half dozen rabbits were found, to which half a dozen rings were tied with ribbons.

Kellar then went among the audience distributing the rings—all but Miss Ethel's. He saw Miss Ethel looking at him in an injured way.

"I've lost the ring," he told her. "But just for fun I'll look in this bottle." He cracked the bottle, and out jumped a white guinea pig with Ethel's ring tied to a blue ribbon around its neck. "Want to keep it for a pet?" asked the magician. "I'll wrap it up." He wrapped the little pig in paper and then handed it to Ethel. Instead of finding the guinea pig Ethel found a bouquet of pink roses, with the ring in one of them.

Chromatic.

"Mamma told papa he looked blue this morning," said small Freddie to his little playfellow Harry. "Wasn't that funny?"

"Huh," was the reply, "that isn't anything. Mamma said our new girl was awful green."—Little Chronicle.

DARING ATTEMPT

Admiral Togo Emulates the Example of Admiral Sampson.

TRIED TO BOTTLE 'EM UP

A Skillful Ruse on the Part of the Japanese at Port Arthur Was Not Successful.

Fire Ships Were Sent Among the Russian Fleet in the beleaguered Harbor.

Timely Action on Part of the Crippled Russians Prevented Plan's Completion.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—On the morning of Feb. 24 the Japanese attempted to send four steamers filled with explosives among the Russian fleet in Port Arthur harbor. These fire ships did no damage and were themselves destroyed, two being sunk and two going ashore. Two Japanese boats escorting the fire ships were destroyed by Russian guns.

The Official Account.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—A telegram from Viceroy Alexieff to the czar says: "At a quarter before 3 in the morning of Feb. 24 numerous Japanese torpedo boats attempted to attack the battleship Retvizan and sink the large steamers loaded with inflammables. The Retvizan was the first to observe the torpedo boats, and opened a strong fire on them. She was supported by the land batteries. She destroyed two steamers near the entrance of the harbor; they were coming directly towards her. One of them went on the rocks near the light house on Tiger peninsula, and the other sank under Golden Hill. The Retvizan observed four steamers in a sinking condition and eight torpedo boats departing slowly to rejoin the waiting Japanese warships. A portion of the crews of the Japanese vessels was drowned. The grounded steamer is still burning.

"The enemy is observed in the offing of Port Arthur in two lines. The Japanese crews saved themselves in boats, and it is possible that some of them were picked up by the enemy's torpedo boats.

"I am proceeding to examine the coasts. The entrance of the harbor is open. I attribute the complete derangement of the enemy's plan to the brilliant action and destructive fire of the Retvizan. Floating mines are still visible in the roadstead. I have recalled the three cruisers sent in pursuit of the enemy in order, in the first place, to clear the roadstead of floating mines.

"We had no losses."

It must be observed that in his dispatch Viceroy Alexieff does not mention the number of steamers which the Japanese tried to sink or drive upon the Russian ships, and it is not yet known whether the four vessels the captain of the Retvizan observed going down, in addition to the two destroyed, were also laden with inflammables or whether they were warships.

The greatest praise is given to the commander of the Retvizan and the splendid action of this American built vessel places her name foremost on the roll of the Russian navy.

AWAITING DETAILS

London Anxious to Hear Independent Report of the Affair.

London, Feb. 25.—Viceroy Alexieff's dispatch to the czar of Russia clearing up the doubts caused by the numerous sensational versions of the last Port Arthur affair confirms the opinion founded upon earlier rumors that Admiral Togo made a daring attempt to bottle up the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, and, although Viceroy Alexieff asserts that the entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur is still free, the fact that Admiral Togo's fleet, minus the vessels injured in the courageous exploit, was seen steaming at full speed on a southeast course from Wei Hai Wei, is interpreted as an indication of the Japanese admiral's satisfaction with the accomplishment of his design.

It is pointed out here that it would be difficult for the Russians in the darkness of night, to ascertain just what had happened to the Japanese vessels, or to distinguish between hulks it was their intention to sink, and torpedo boats.

As two injured vessels were observed steaming slowly away from Port Arthur and as the Japanese fleet was going full speed off Wei Hai Wei, it is presumed that the two injured vessels might have gone elsewhere to repair.

Another explanation of incompleteness of Admiral Togo's squadron as seen of Wei Hai Wei is that he possibly left some vessels to watch off Port Arthur.

Further details of this engagement from independent sources are awaited with the greatest interest, but it is believed that the reports that Japanese battleships or transports were sunk should be taken with a degree of allowance.

ST. PETERSBURG JOYFUL

News of Russian Victory Causes Intense Excitement.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—Reports of a Russian victory at Port Arthur were current late yesterday afternoon and last night they were definitely confirmed by a message from Viceroy Alexieff.

At first the stories of the dimensions of this victory were most conflicting and confusing in character. The most circumstantial report was that the Japanese fleet in Port Arthur by sinking two stone laden vessels at the entrance of the harbor, employing the tactics which were considered, but not executed by the late Admiral Sampson, U. S. N., with the Merrimac at Santiago during the Spanish-American war. According to this account two Japanese ships appeared off the harbor with a fleet behind them and ostensibly in pursuit. The Russians, however, suspected a ruse and their ships steamed out, sank the stone-laden vessels, engaged and defeated the enemy and drove them off. The reports of the loss inflicted, however, are conflicting.

All the stories included the feature of the vessels loaded with stones, but according to some versions the Japanese fleet was conveying transports with the purpose of effecting a landing at Pigeon bay, and, after the failure of this preliminary maneuver the Russians played havoc with both the Japanese transports and war ships, sinking four of the transports and two of the war ships. One account even gives the name of the battleship Retvizan as the vessel which particularly distinguished herself during the action by ramming and sinking one of the Japanese battleships.

Rumors of this victory were spread far and wide over the city during the early part of the evening, and the crowds which had gathered in the streets, despite the severe cold, to discuss the news, were greatly excited. The news of the victory was accompanied by two stories, one that after the first decisive Russian victory the emperor would offer peace and the other that Japan had deposed the emperor of Korea and formally annexed that country. Both these reports are without confirmation and they are given simply as examples of the stories which floated about in the excited crowds.

Women's Strange Taste.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Judge Kersten has learned that the mother and sister of one of the jurors had become apparently infatuated with Gustav Marx, one of the defendants in the car bandits' trial and were sending to Marx's cell in the county jail daily gifts of flowers and fruit. He was informed further that while passing out of the court room with members of Marx's family the two women stated that there would be a disagreement in the case. The women have been constant attendants at the proceedings ever since the hearing of testimony began, and have been in communication with the juror. Judge Kersten called to the bench bailiffs who have charge of the jury, and instructed them to permit no intercourse between the juror and his family.

Panama's Gratitude.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Dr. Amador, the president of the republic of Panama, has replied as follows to the telegram sent to him by M. Buneau Varilla, the minister at Washington, informing him of the ratification of the Panama canal treaty. "I beg you to convey to the noble American government and to the great American people the expression of our sentiment of deep gratitude in the name of the government and of the people of our new born republic. The inestimable services rendered by you to this nation will live always in the hearts of its citizens and will last even longer than the bronze of the statue of the great Frenchman at the erection of which you contributed so generously."

COMPLETE WRECK

Starch Mill at Waukegan Collapsed Under Force of Terrible Explosion.

DEATH LIST UNKNOWN

Three Known Dead, but This List May be Increased to More Than a Score.

A Fortnight's Hard Work Will be Required to Clear Away the Debris.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Three men were killed and eighteen injured last night in an explosion that wrecked the starch mill of the Warner Sugar Refining company, at Waukegan, Ill. It is possible that the number of dead will exceed three, but it will be at least a fortnight before the wreckage of the mill can be cleaned up in such a manner that it can be positively known that no more bodies are in the debris. The reports of the dead run all the way from three to twenty-five. The evidence, however, is in favor of the lower number.

The starch mill, which was entirely destroyed by the force of the explosion, was a brick building four stories high, 200 feet long by 100 feet wide. The structure with the machinery it contained was valued at $250,000. The building and all it contained is a total loss. No definite cause is known for the explosion.

The force of the explosion was terrific. Windows in the town of Waukegan, one and one-half miles from the starch mill, were smashed into fragments and window sashes that had been a part of the factory were found hanging on telegraph wires three squares from the scene of the explosion.

WAR RENEWED

American and Spanish Sailors Come Together at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Feb. 25.—A fight occurred here between sailors from a Spanish and an American warship which resulted in the wounding of several men and an ultimate victory for the Americans.

The fight originated when a seaman from the United States cruiser Columbia jostled a sailor from the Spanish cruiser Rio de la Plata as he passed him in the street. The Spaniard was with a companion from his ship, as was the American sailor and all the men were on shore liberty. The Spanish sailor drew a stiletto and seriously wounded the American who had brushed against him. Other men from the Columbia who were on shore gathered around their companions and attacked the two Spaniards, who defended themselves with their knives and succeeded in slightly wounding several other Americans. They finally escaped, ran to the wharf and jumped into the water. They were picked up by a harbor boat and taken on board their warship. The wounded American sailor is in a hospital here in a critical condition.

Killed by Gas Explosion.

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Thomas J. Turley, who was burned in a gas explosion at her home, is dead. Her face and hands and upper part of her body to the waist line were burned and charred. Mr. Turley's condition is critical. Mr. Turley, who is a plumber, went into his cellar to procure some tools, with which to repair a pipe at a neighbor's house. He carried a lighted lamp in his hand, and, as he stepped into the cellar, an explosion followed.

School Superintendents' Officiary.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 25.—Before adjournment of the annual meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational association Milwaukee was selected as the place for next year's meeting. The annual election resulted as follows: President, Supt. E. G. Cooley, Chicago; Vice-President, Prof. Lawton B. Evans, Augusta, Ga.; Second Vice-President, Prof. J. W. Carr, Anderson, Ind.; Secretary, Angeline E. Whitney, New York.

Rush Orders for Transports.

New York, Feb. 25.—Rush orders have been received in this city by the quartermaster's department to have shifts of men work day and night to put the United States transports McClellan and Sumner in readiness to put to sea. Orders have been placed for coal, and both vessels will have their bunkers filled within thirty-six hours. A commissary department has also been ordered to provision the transport for 1,500 men.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN

Will be Outlined at Coming Meeting of State Committee.

Indianapolis, Feb. 25.—Chairman Goodrich has issued a call for a meeting of the Republican state committee next Thursday. The date for the state convention will be fixed then. A plan of campaign will also be outlined. Chairman Goodrich has been in favor of holding the convention the third week of April but he says it may be postponed until sometime in May in deference to the wishes of members of the congressional delegation. The session may adjourn by the 1st of May, in which case it would be advisable to postpone the convention until after that time. All the Indiana Republican members want to attend the convention and if they can be saved an extra trip from Washington it is probable the committee will favor a later convention. The committee will, it is understood, accept a proposition to move the headquarters to the English hotel.

Quincy A. Myers of Logansport who is well known in state political circles was here today on business. He is naturally much interested in the success of Congressman Fred Landis of Logansport, who is a candidate for renomination, but he says the situation in the district is so perplexing that it is difficult to predict the outcome with any accuracy. He thinks the district will loyally support Warren G. Sayre of Wabash in his candidacy for governor. Myers will probably be a candidate for judge of the supreme court two years hence. He is one of the promoters of the Indianapolis, Logansport & Chicago Railway company which sometime ago secured a franchise here and which has spent a large amount of money for right-of-way. He says the road will certainly be constructed and that a part of it will be completed this year.

The attempts of certain eastern papers to make it appear that Senator Albert J. Beveridge went beyond the bounds of propriety and asked members of the late Senator Hanna's family to have him placed on the funeral party that went to Cleveland last week have fallen flat. President Frye of the senate brands the story as a complete falsehood. Senator Beveridge's host of followers in Indiana, however, never took any stock in the statements against him as they felt all the time, as Senator Frye said, that he was placed on the committee because of the very warm friendship that had always existed between him and the late Senator Hanna. It has also been shown that Senator Beveridge was given Senator Hanna's seat by Daniel Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the senate.

The primaries for the election of precinct committeemen were held this afternoon by the Republicans here. The polls will close at 8 o'clock to night. The fight for control was fierce between the remnant of the old Bookwalter machine and the crowd that opposed it during the last city campaign. With the machine it was a fight for life. Its candidate for chairman is Sheriff Robert Metzger. The opposing candidate is Colonel Harry B. Smith. The latter is most friendly to Congressman Overstreet. It was said today that the success of the machine means that Bookwalter will be nominated for congress. This was denied, however, by close friends of Bookwalter who said that he has no desire this time to run. The precinct committeemen will meet Saturday afternoon to elect officers.

The race for the Eighth district nomination has reached the stage where the politicians are at fever heat and the masses are becoming enthused. The followers of Cromer and Dunlap are working every highway and byway for support and it is said that there is more interest than there was during the last state election. The result hinges largely on the vote in Madison, Delaware and Randolph counties. There is more mud slinging in this contest than any in the recent history of the state. The betting is all in favor of Cromer. His followers are offering even money that he will cover four of the six counties and there are but few takers. The nomination will be made by direct vote next Tuesday.

Charles Berry Landis of Delphi was renominated for congress today by the Republicans of the Ninth district. The convention was held at Frankfort. All of the candidates for governor and several for other places on the state ticket attended. Gen. Lew Wallace presided and made a speech. Congressman Landis was present. He made one of his usual happy speeches in accepting the nomination. His friends are confident that he will make a fine race this time. Leroy Nash of Tipton, the Ninth district candidate for reporter of the supreme and appellate courts, was enthusiastically received. Landis is the first member of congress from this state to be renominated this year.

Dick Unanimously Selected.

Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—Gen. Charles Dick was nominated by acclamation for both the unexpired and regular terms for United States senator to succeed the late Senator Hanna at the caucus of the Republican members of the legislature last evening. The name of Gen. Dick was the only one presented. As the Republicans have a large majority in both branches, Gen. Dick's election is assured and the balloting on March 1 will be only a formality.

Baltimore Cleaning Up.

Baltimore, Feb. 25.—With the exception of two or three blocks containing wrecks of buildings considered dangerous all sections of the burned district have been opened to the public. The only soldiers now on duty are the men from Ft. McHenry who are guarding the custom house and sub-treasury.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Unequaled for Constipation.

Mr. A. R. Kaze, a prominent druggist of Baxter Springs, Kansas, says: "Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are, in my judgment, the most superior preparation of anything in use today for constipation. They are sure in action and with no tendency to nauseate or gripe. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

When You Have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, sours and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make, any mistake, remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Why We Were Late.

An unavoidable accident in the REPUBLICAN office last evening made it impossible for us to get the paper to our subscribers on time. When we had about 100 of our daily issues off the press broke down. The press engined hard to fix it, and make it go but it refused to do the work. Finally we gave it up for the evening and called on the Democrat who very kindly helped us out of a very embarrassing position by running the remainder of our issue on their press.

JERRY DUGGINS ARRAIGNED.

He Maintains a Spirit of Indifference

(TERRE HAUTE TRIBUNE)

At 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, murderer Jerry Duggins was brought into court and as he stood before Judge Peity, he was arraigned on an indictment charging the murder of Mrs. Sarah Ramsey.

He entered no plea to the charge,
and by his indifferent demeanor treated it as a matter of minor importance.
He was given to understand that he was entitled to defense and a fair trial and that he should have it. Samuel K. Duvall was appointed to defend the prisoner and was instructed to consult with his client and notify the judge of the earliest possible date he would be ready to try the case.

When Judge Peity first appointed Attorney Duvall, the lawyer hesitated in accepting, asking for time to consider the matter. He said that the circumstances made the action an important one on his part, and he did not like to step into it hastily. When the judge announced that no time would be given for consideration, and that the appointment must be accepted or rejected at once, Mr. Duvall announced that he would accept.

The news that the fiend had been brought into court flew like the proverbial wild-fire and in a remarkably short space of time all the avenues leading to the court room were crowded with people eager to get even a glimpse of the man charged with three murders. Though the proceedings were hurried, the room was crowded before they were completed, and two officers were required to keep the curious outside the railing.

For the first time since his arrest, Duggins showed signs of fear, by hovering up close to the officers, and casting uneasy glances at the crowd which was so eager to see him. This was only for a moment however, and then he resumed that defiant stolidness which has made him perhaps one of the most remarkable prisoners ever held in the Vigo county jail. He sat near the table in front of the judge's bench, and there was scarcely a quiver of a muscle or a change of expression, while the indictment was being read to him. He wore a pair of jeans trousers, two ragged coats, a badly soiled shirt and a pair of light lace shoes. He sat with his right foot rest-
peared riveted on the foot, his old greasy slouch hat he held in his left hand. When told to stand, he obeyed with apparent reluctance, and as he arose he cast a glance at the curious crowd outside the railing, before looking up at the judge.

Duggins will be given an early trial.
Some mob spirit was manifest about the jail but there seems little likelihood of a lynching.

Revival Meeting.

The sermon, "Prepare to meet thy God," preached by Harley Jackson was well received by those present.

The text taken from Heb. 10:30-31 brought forth this thought. Life is uncertain at the best. Think of the unexpected death summons. We must subject ourselves to the will of God.
If man's vengeance is almost ungovernable, think what must be the vengeance of God. God gives us ample warning to flee from sin. Man wants to forget the judgement, the sentence, the disappointment of friends, and eternity.

It is not time in death to prepare for eternity, now is the time to prepare to meet your God. The solo had good bearing on the subject and was much enjoyed. Sermon tonight, "Of stacles to be removed." Miss Harris, solo will be "Cling to the Savior my boy."
Come and bring your friends, services 7:30 sharp.

going.

GOOD ACTIONS.

A DUTY WOMEN OWE THEMSELVES.

"Good actions speak louder than words," so too, does the testimony of many thousands of women during a third of a century speak louder than mere claims not backed by a guarantee of some kind. That is the reason why the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are willing to offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured. Such a remarkable offer is founded on the long record of cures of the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women. If there is an invalid woman, suffering from female weakness, prolapsus, or falling of womb, or from leucorrhea, who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription without complete success, the undersigned proprietors and makers of that world-famed medicine would like to hear from such person—and it will be to her advantage to write them as they offer, in perfect good faith, a reward of $500 for any case of the above maladies which they can not cure. No other medicine for women's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its makers in making such an offer.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd, at their convent, "Our Lady of the Woods," Carthage, Ohio, use a great deal of Dr. Pierce's medicines; they say, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce: "We beg to assure you of the great benefit these medicines give our ailing ones. We cannot sufficiently recommend their excellence."

An experience which many women have written to Miss Agnes Stebbins, of 231 East 30th St., N. Y., as follows: "I had very poor health for a year. I looked dark and dreary to me. Had headaches, backache, also pain. My sleep was broken and fitful. I longed for health. Tried several medicines but none were of any lasting benefit until I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I soon realized that I had found the right remedy. It helped nature to throw off the poisons that saturated the system, removed all pains and strengthened the digestive organs, and brought the roses of health back to my cheeks. This medicine if taken occasionally keeps the system in perfect condition, helping it to throw off the disease and consequences of exposure to dampness. I am pleased to give it my endorsement."

The anxious mother often is worried and sick. The doctor's visits are expensive—At such times she is invited to write Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., and receive medical advice free.

"My baby came the latter part of October, and is a fine boy, weight about nine pounds," writes Mrs. Annie E. Hagerman, of York, Pa. (West Philadelphia St., Elberton). "Am sure he would not be what he is had it not been for your Favorite Prescription. He is really a very strong child. I have been feeling fine since taking your medicine. Have not the pain around my heart, and nerves have been a great deal better. Uterine trouble was much better all the time I was taking your medicine. I cannot recommend it too highly. Have told my friends about it, and one of them said she was going to write to you at once. I took twelve bottles, before baby was born and two afterward."

"I cannot praise your medicine highly enough," writes Mrs. Jennie Hippenhamer, of Hometown, Indiana. "I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and took it steadily for six months. I was not once sick at stomach, never vomited once. Took the 'Favorite Prescription' three times a day and when in severe pain took an extra teaspoonful of medicine which checked the pain. I felt pleasant all the time and did not get nervous as I used to. When my baby girl came last August she was healthy. She is now eleven months old. Am thirty-eight years old and never got through so easily in all my life. Why should women suffer when they can get through so easily? I am able to do quite a washing and ironing which I could not do for eight years before."

$5,000 REWARD will be paid in law-ful money of the United States, by the officers of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, if they cannot show the original signature of each individual volunteering the testimonials herewith and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness and the superiority of these medicines.

The reason Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts as such a restoring tonic and strength builder for run-down women is because it fits the needs of the womanly organism. It is not a "patent medicine" in the common view of that term, for Dr. R. V. Pierce, many years ago, used this prescription in his large practice in all those cases where his women patients were run-down, nervous or suffering from considerable pain at stated periods, due to irregularity or diseases of the female organs. It is not like many of the so-called tonics advertised these days, because it does not depend upon alcohol or any narcotic for its effect. It is purely vegetable in its composition and without alcohol.

OUR RECORD.

The record of work well done is perhaps more convincing than argument. "In regard to my health," says Mrs. A. M. McCree, of Oostanaula, Ga., "when I wrote to you in July 1900, was hardly able to do my work. Was troubled with my heart beating too fast and breast hurting so I could not breathe easily. Was so nervous at times that I did not know what to do. Got two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets' and have hardly been troubled since. Have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicines to my friends and advise them to try the same."

"I consulted you in August last (three months ago) about my case, and you have my heartfelt thanks for your advice," writes Miss B. Horne, of 208 Scott Street, Erie, Pa. "As soon as your reply was received I commenced taking your 'Favorite Prescription' for female weakness and other troubles, and now I am well. Have not felt as well in years as I do now, after taking six bottles of each kind of medicine. Am gaining every day and almost cured. Am no longer pale and sallow. Am recommended Dr. Pierce's wonderful medicine every where."

When the Drug-gist says he has something that is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, just tell him, "There's nothing just as good." He says so because he hopes to make a better profit but his own mixtures have not stood the test of long experience and success as have Doctor Pierce's medicines.

CONGRESSIONAL DOINGS

Action of High Legislative "Body on Two Important Measures.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The senate spent the greater part yesterday discussing an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill striking out the house provision giving authority to the secretary of agriculture to inspect imported food products when misbranded or suspected of impurity. The amendment was suggested by Mr. Aldrich, who said the provision opened the way for an encroachment by the secretary of agriculture on the duties of the secretary of the treasury and was calculated to cause a duplication in the services of the two officials. Messrs. Lodge, Beveridge, Patterson and others supported Mr. Aldrich. Mr. Proctor, in charge of the bill, defended the provision and had the aid of Messrs. Dooliver, McComas, Bacon and others. The discussion was closed by substituting the provision of the act of 1900 bearing on the same point. This solution of the problem was suggested by Mr. Proctor and was accepted by all. Consideration of the bill practically was concluded but final action on it was postponed until today in order to allow an inspection of it as amended.

Two storm centers have been encountered in consideration of the naval appropriation bill in the house. First, the Great Lakes training station went out of the bill on a point of order after a worthy battle. The building program proposed in the bill then met criticism and blocked further progress of the measure for the time.

FIRST OF ITS KIND

Sweeping Injunction Leveled at Chicago Central Labor Union.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—On the sworn statement of officials of the Dearborn Duster company that the Chicago Federation of Labor was engaged in assisting strikers in unlawful acts of intimidation and violence, Judge Jesse Holdom has issued an injunction against the Central Labor Union.

President William G. Schardt and Secretary Edward H. Nockels are especially named as defendants, together with a host of girls and men strikers belonging to the Feather Duster Makers' union. The attempt of the company to connect the Federation of Labor with the acts complained of is the first of its kind in Chicago. If successful it will connect that body with the alleged conspiracy to put employers out of business unless they grant union demands. All criminal acts will, it is claimed, render every member of a labor union responsible. Judge Holdom's injunction is said to be one of the most sweeping ever issued in Chicago.

Jury Exonerated Him.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 25.—James Miller, who shot and killed his brother-in-law, Richard Edlin, near Sardonica, was exonerated by the coroner's jury who held that the killing was done in self-defense.

OVER THE STATE

Various Matters of Interest to Hoosier Readers Presented Here.

HE GAVE HIMSELF UP

Indianapolis Young Man Recognized His Weakness and Desired Corrective Measures Taken.

John Milton Made Personal Application to be Sent to Reformatory.

Indianapolis, Feb. 25.—The remarkable instance of a young man giving himself up and accepting a term in prison, to correct deficiencies in his nature has occurred in criminal court. John L. Milton appeared before Judge Alford, accompanied by his attorney, and announced that he was guilty of forgery and wished to be sentenced. He had gone to the attorney in order that a charge of forgery might be prepared against him. The offense named in the affidavit is that of passing a forged check for $12 on Charles Norton, a druggist.

It was stated that Milton had committed many forgeries in the last few years, but that his father had in each case made the loss good. Milton seems to have recognized his own weakness, because it was stated by his attorney that the submission to the law was altogether voluntary. Judge Alford heard the affidavit and sentenced Milton to a term of not less than two years nor more than fourteen in the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville. Milton is twenty-eight years old.

ONE WAY TO STOP IT

Cad Should be Used on Rowdy College Boys, Says Judge Hord.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 25.—Judge Francis T. Hord, of the Bartholomew county circuit court, expresses himself in no mild terms in regard to the class spirit of the kind that has been in the air at the Indiana University and Wabash College for the last few days. He says that the two sophomores who brought Frank Hare, the freshman scrap captain, to this city, last Saturday night, ought to have been indicted in this city, and tried for assault and battery and kidnapping. He thinks the action of the students is a disgrace, and he advises the liberal use of the gad. Not long ago Edward Simonton, a teacher in this county, whipped three boys with a wagon whip, and this has caused a great deal of comment from all over the state. Judge Hord says that if this rule was applied in colleges there would be less class scraps and more actual good attained than there ever can be while the present conditions prevail.

Went to Baptistry in Shackles.

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 25.—James McDonald, in prison here, charged with the murder of Sarah Schafer, of Bedford, was immersed in the Christian church by Rev. Thomas Clark, the pastor. McDonald's special desire was to be immersed and he asked for the preacher. Rev. Clark was called and after a long talk, said he was satisfied with the statement of McDonald. The prisoner was then handcuffed and taken to the church, asked formal questions and immersed with his handcuffs still on him, after which he was returned to jail. He made no demonstration and says he is now satisfied to leave his case with providence.

Too Much for the Highwaymen.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Feb. 25.—Lan Lewis, Dr. George Ames and Harry Kerht, driving on the Utica pike early in the morning, returning from a birthday party, were stopped by three highwaymen, one of whom seized the horse while the others called upon the occupants to stand and deliver. Lewis sprang from the vehicle, whip in hand, using the butt end with vigor. He was joined by his companions, and after a sharp battle the highwaymen were put to flight. Lewis was severely cut about the head and both of his companions were bruised.

Defective Gun Causes Death.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 25.—August Horvath was accidentally shot and killed by John Kovach. They had been examining a revolver which would not explode the cartridge while being handled by Horvath. Kovach then began testing the weapon and the cartridge exploded. The bullet struck Horvath in the nose, passing through and lodging in the brain. When the weapon was first tried, the hammer struck an empty chamber.

Bowles Held to Answer.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 25.—Wm. Bowles, of Plymouth, Ind., was last evening formally charged with the murder of Wm. Runyan, who was killed Saturday night after a desperate struggle. The arraignment took place before City Judge Weldman, and the case was set for hearing on Monday, Feb. 29. Bowles pleaded not guilty.

Sunman, Ind., Feb. 25.—Albert Hartman, a farmer, who accidentally killed himself while climbing a fence with a shotgun in his hand, left thirteen children, the oldest of whom is seventeen.
